

Jerry Zeyu Gao is a professor at the Department of Computer Engineering at San Jose State University. Now, he is the director of SJSU research center on Smart Technology, Computing, and Complex Systems. He had over 24 years of academic research and teaching experience and over 10 years of industry working and management experience on software engineering and IT development applications. He has published three technical books and over hundreds (280) publications in IEEE/ACM journals, magazines, international conferences, and workshops. In last 10 years, Dr. Gao has played as one of leaders in organizing many international conferences and workshops as a conference co-chair, program co-chair, and workshop co-chair, including IEEEAITest, IEEE Smart World Congress, IEEE Smart City Innovation 2017, SEKE, IEEE MobileCloud, IEEE BigDataService, and IEEE SOSE. In 2021, Dr. Gao has served as the steering committee board chair for IEEE International Congress on Intelligent Service-Oriented Systems Engineering (IEEECISOSE), and Steering Committee Board Members for IEEE Smart World Congress.

His current research areas include cyber-physical systems for smart cities, smart agriculture, and wildfires, intelligent test automation and quality assurance services, mobile cloud computing and services, software engineering. Dr. Gao's research and publications received lots of citations in the research community, for example, his Google Scholar citation is over 7400+, and ResearchGate reading reaches to over 230,000.

In 2010, Jerry Gao has been recognized by University of Texas at Arlington as a distinguished Alumna for College of Engineering at its 50th anniversary. In 2011, he was award as a KSI Fellow in SEKE2011. In 2013, Dr. Gao has received the College of Engineering Faculty Award for Excellence in scholarship. Recently, Dr. Gao has been recommended and listed as Marquis's American Who's Who 2020-2021, and Marquis's Industry Leaders in 2021.
